Young Lives Head Teacher's Telephone Survey 2020

Ethiopia Head Teacher Telephone Survey Fieldwork Manual

12 July 2022

Young Lives

Young Lives

An International Study of Childhood Poverty

Ethiopia
Head Teacher Telephone Survey 2020

Fieldworker Manual
Version 1.0

Centre for Economic and Social Studies
Nizamiah Observatory Campus, Begumpet Hyderabad
Website: www.cess.ac.in

1. Table of Contents

1. Table of Contents 3
1. Introduction to Young Lives 5
2. The Young Lives Head Teacher Telephone Survey 5
3. Sample 5
4. List of survey documents 6
5. Calling the head teachers 7
5.1 Phone call 1: Tracking, providing information, and gaining consent 7
5.1.1 Things to have ready for Phone call 1 7
5.1.2 Tracking the head teacher and school 7
5.1.3 Explaining the survey 10
5.1.4 Arranging a time and date for the survey 10
5.2 Phone call 2: Completing the questionnaire 10
5.2.1 Things to have ready for Phone call 2 10
5.2.2 Starting the call 10
5.2.2 Completing the call 11
5.2.3 Survey instructions 11
5.2.3 What if something goes wrong during the call? 12
6. Compensation for School Leaders 13
7. Telephone enumerator conduct 13
7.1 Basic principles 13
7.2 General Conduct 13
8. What if…? 13
Appendix 1: Consent script 14

This manual explains how to conduct fieldwork for the Young Lives Head Teacher Telephone Survey 2020.

Please read it carefully before beginning the data collection.

Please refer to the manual regularly during the data collection period and make sure to follow all instructions and processes carefully.

1. Introduction to Young Lives

Young Lives is a longitudinal survey of children which began in 2002. It is being conducted in India, Ethiopia, Peru and Vietnam.

The Young Lives survey collects data from children and their families at household level. Young Lives has followed 2000 children in Ethiopia since their first year of life (the 'Younger Cohort'), and an additional 1000 children since they were 8 years old (the 'Older Cohort'). These children live in 20 sites within 5 regions (Oromia, Amhara, Tigray, SNNP and Addis Ababa). To date, there have been five rounds of Young Lives data collection at the household level.

Young Lives has also conducted two school surveys in Ethiopia. The lower primary school survey was conducted in 2004 and the upper primary school survey was conducted in 2009 (Ethiopian calendar).

2. The Young Lives Head Teacher Telephone Survey

We are conducting a follow-up survey of head teachers to understand how the COVID-19 situation is affecting schools in Ethiopia. The survey will investigate how schools are supporting children and families while schools are closed, how they think the school closures might affect children's learning, and their plans for reopening.

This survey is being is being run by PSI and the University of Oxford. It is being funded by Echidna Giving, a foundation interested in education.

PSI have gained permission from the government for this survey to be conducted with head teachers.

3. Sample

The sample for this follow-up survey will include the 64 schools in Ethiopia who took part in the original Young Lives upper primary school survey in 2009.

Going back to the same sample means that we already have a lot of information about the schools, so we can make comparisons between different types of schools – for example big and small schools or schools with relatively wealth or relatively poor students. It's important that only these schools take part.

The survey coordinator will give you a list of head teachers to phone during the fieldwork period.

4. List of survey documents

The table below lists all of the documents you will use during this data collection.

	Document	Description
1	List of schools	- The survey coordinator will provide you with this list. - This lists the schools in the sample. - It provides the School ID. - It also lists the name of the person who was head teacher in 2016-17 and their contact phone number. - If the name or contact details of the head teacher have changed, you should update this list and give the new details to the survey coordinator at PSI.
2	Handbook	- This is the handbook. - You should refer to the handbook throughout the data collection process and follow all instructions and processes carefully.
3	Informed Consent script	- Before you begin the survey, you will need to give the head teacher information about the survey and the data it will collect, and check whether they are happy to take part. - The Informed Consent script provides all the information you will need to do this. This is provided at the end of this Handbook. - You will read Informed Consent script aloud to the head teacher during Phone Call 1 to make sure they understand and are happy to participate.
4	Survey	- The survey questions are written in CAPI. - This means that as you complete the questions, it will automatically move to the next relevant question. - You should also have a paper copy of the survey ready for each phone call in case of any technical difficulties. - If you need to use a paper copy, you will need to follow the instructions carefully for each question to ensure you only ask relevant questions, and do no miss any questions.

5. Calling the head teachers

Data collection for the telephone survey will include two phone calls:

Phone call 1: Tracking, providing information and gaining consent

Phone call 2: Completing the questionnaire

Details of what each phone call must include are described in the following two sections of this manual. The documents that you will need with you to complete each phone call are also listed below. Make sure you have the documents ready before you dial the head teacher's phone number.

5.1 Phone call 1: Tracking, providing information, and gaining consent

In this call, you will:

- track the right head teacher and school
- explain the survey to the head teacher
- (if the head teacher wants to take part), arrange a time and date for the head teacher to take part in the survey

If a head teacher wants to complete the survey immediately after Phone Call 1, that is fine.

5.1.1 Things to have ready for Phone call 1

For the phone call you will need:

- the list of schools that you will be calling
- the consent script

5.1.2 Tracking the head teacher and school

It is important to make sure that we have up-to-date contact details for the head teacher and that they are still in charge of the same Young Lives school. This is so that we can match their survey answers to the information that we already have for the school.

The list of schools that you will be given contains:

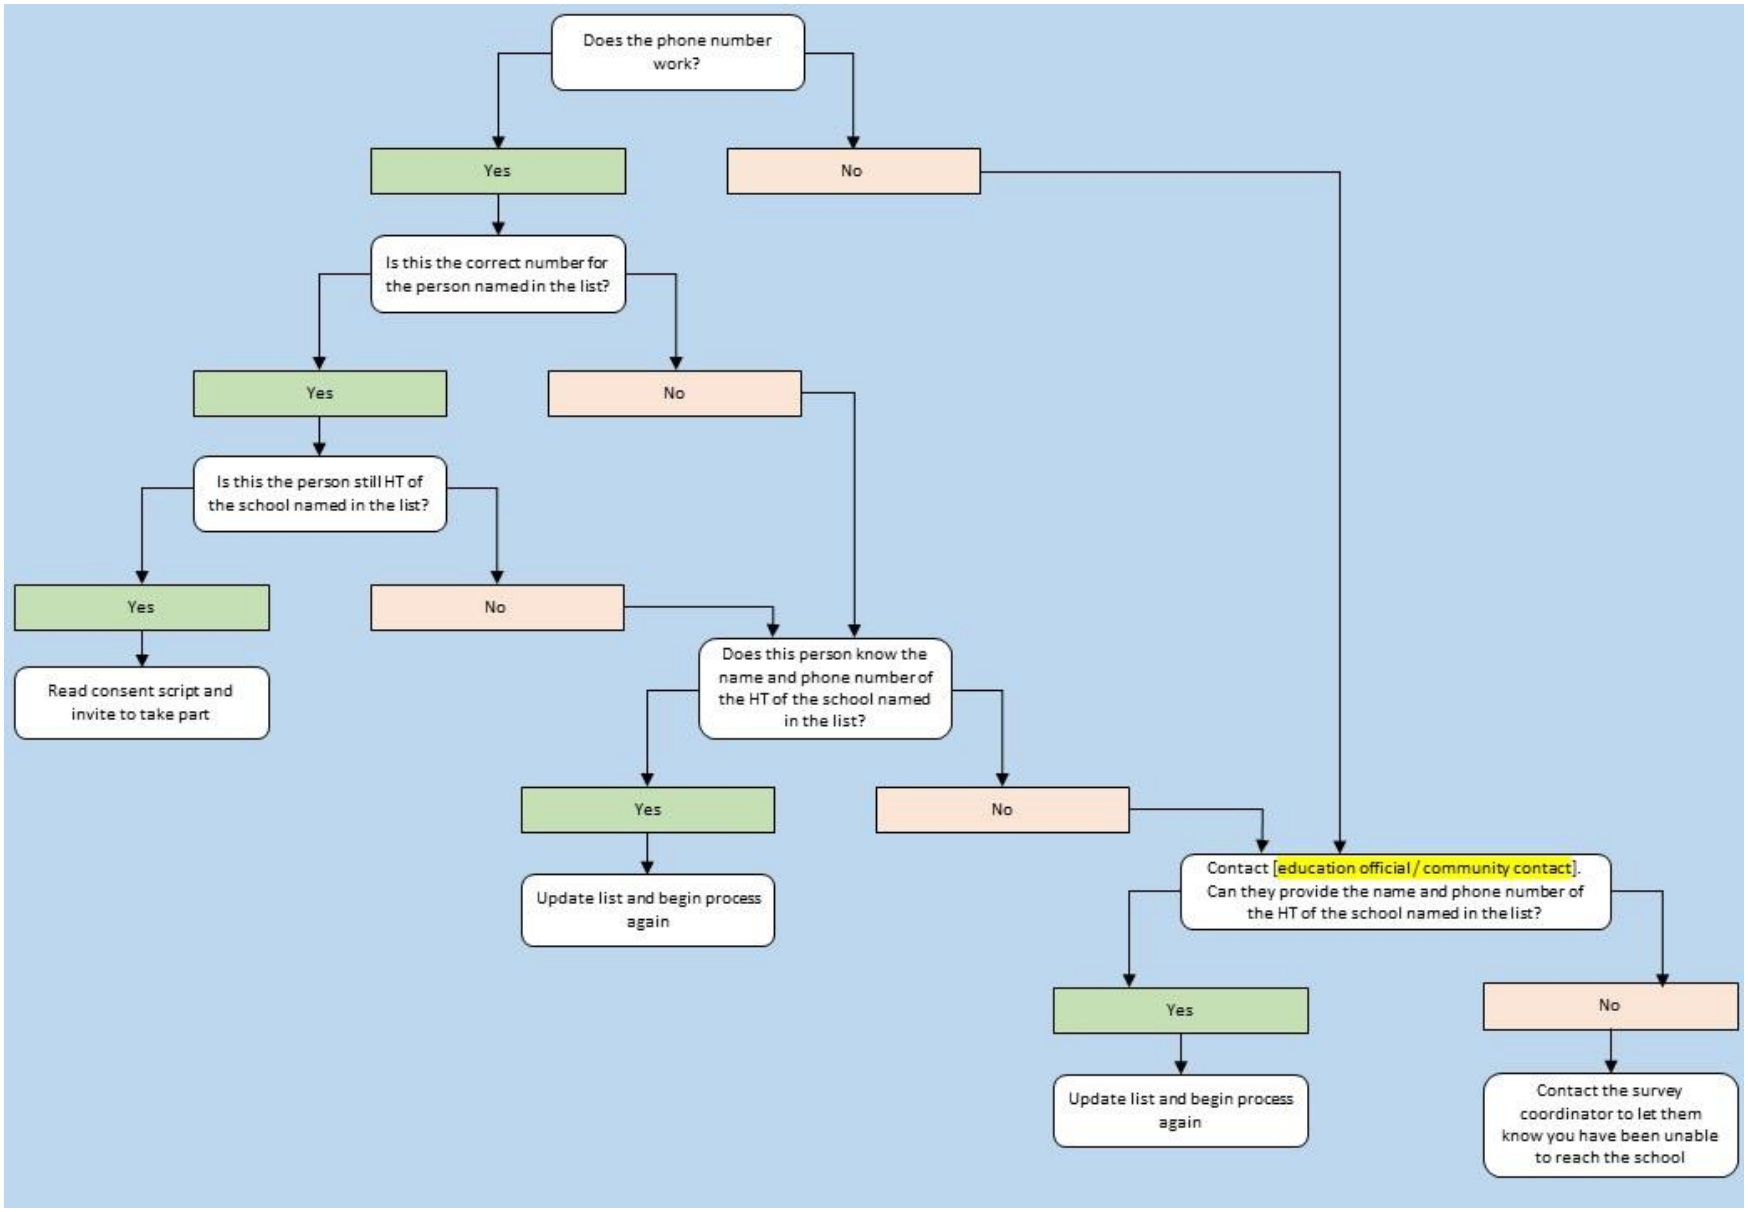

- the YL school ID
- the name and address of the school
- the name of the head teacher in 2009
- the phone number of the head teacher in 2009

Follow the process in the blue box below to make sure that:

- the phone number still works
- the phone number connects to the head teacher named in the sample
- the head teacher is still the head teacher of the school named in the sample

It is important that we collect up-to-date contact details for the head teacher – there is space to collect this on your list of schools and the survey coordinator at PSI will collect this information at the end of fieldwork.

If the person named in our sample is no longer the head teacher of the Young Lives school, it's important that we try to contact the new head teacher of that school. The old head teacher can not complete the survey for any other school.

Does the phone number work?
Yes
No
Is this the correct number for the person named in the list?
Yes
No
Is this the person still HT of the school named in the list?
Yes
No
Read consent script and invite to take part
Does this person know the name and phone number of the HT of the school named in the list?
Yes
No
Update list and begin process again
Contact [education official / community contact]. Can they provide the name and phone number of the HT of the school named in the list?
Yes
No
Update list and begin process again
Contact the survey coordinator to let them know you have been unable to reach the school

5.1.3 Explaining the survey

Read out the information provided in the consent script, which:

- explains the purpose of the survey
- explains what taking part will involve
- provides reassurances about anonymity and confidentiality

Make sure that the head teacher has an opportunity to ask any questions and that you answer these questions. If there are any questions you can't answer, please check with the survey coordinator at PSI.

5.1.4 Arranging a time and date for the survey

If the head teacher is happy to take part, arrange a time and date to call them back to complete the survey (Call 2). If they prefer, you can conduct the survey there and then.

If the head teacher refuses to take part, thank them for their time and make a note of this on your list of schools. Do not call this head teacher again.

5.2 Phone call 2: Completing the questionnaire

In this phone call, you will record:

- the head teacher's consent to take part
- whether the head teacher is happy for their answers to be matched with information from the previous survey conducted in 2009
- whether the head teacher is happy to be contacted about future research
- the head teacher's answers to the survey questionnaire

5.2.1 Things to have ready for Phone call 2

For the phone call you will need:

- the list of schools that you will be calling
- a blank paper copy of the questionnaire
- access to the CAPI programme

5.2.2 Starting the call

Before phoning the head teacher, open the CAPI program and enter:

- your name
- the YL school ID from your list
- the name of the school
- the name of the head teacher

Once you have entered this information, call the head teacher, make sure they are the person you agreed to call and follow the instructions and script on screen.

5.2.2 Completing the call

The CAPI program includes all of the instructions and questions that you will need to ask the head teacher. This includes questions to record their consent to take part as well as the survey questions.

Read out all text in black in full. The text in green provides instructions for you, that you don't need to read out. More information about these instructions is provided in the blue box below.

The questionnaire will automatically skip questions that aren't relevant to the school, based on the head teacher's answers. This means that you might not read exactly the same questions to all head teachers who take part.

If a head teacher doesn't want to answer a question, or doesn't know the answer, you can skip to the next question.

At the end of the call, thank the respondent, save the interview and close the CAPI program.

5.2.3 Survey instructions

The table below explains the different instructions you will need to follow when reading the survey questions. Please note – we will update this list with any specific guidance requested following the pilot.

Instruction	Explanation
Read out and select one	This instruction is used for questions where we want the head teacher to choose one answer. • After reading the question, read out all of the multiple choice answer options. • The head teacher can select one answer only from this list. • The software will not let you enter more than one option. • If the head teacher tries to give more than one answer, please remind them that they must choose just one option.
Read out and select all that apply	This instruction is used for questions where we want to know all of the answers which are relevant. • After reading the question, read out all of the multiple choice answer options. • The head teacher can select as many answers as they like as you go through the list. • The software will let you enter multiple options. • If the head teacher gives an answer like "none of these", make sure no other answers are selected.

Read out if necessary and select one	This instruction is used for questions where the head teacher should be able to answer without hearing the multiple choice options. The answers can be read aloud if necessary. • After reading the question, allow the head teacher to give their answer. • They are likely to provide an answer from this list without you reading the list of options. Record their answer by selecting one option from the list. • If the respondent needs you to read out the answer options, read them aloud. The head teacher can select one answer.
Probe to code and select one	This instruction is used for questions where the head teacher should be able to answer without hearing the multiple choice options. You will select an answer based on their response. • After reading the question, allow the head teacher to give their response. • Look at the list of multiple choice options to identify which matches the answer the head teacher has given. • If required, ask the head teacher a follow up question to check that the response you have selected matches the response they gave.

5.2.3 What if something goes wrong during the call?

- If the CAPI program doesn't work, complete the call using the paper questionnaire. Read all of the instructions carefully, especially where you are instructed to skip questions. Enter the answers from the paper copy into the CAPI program as soon as you have access.

- If the phone line cuts out, try to call the head teacher back to resume the call. If you cannot contact them immediately, leave a short break before trying to contact them again. Once you can contact the head teacher again, complete the questionnaire from the point you were at. If you already submitted the partially-completed web survey, speak to the survey coordinator so they are aware of it. Make sure the School ID is clearly recorded on all partially completed surveys so they can be matched up.

- If the head teacher is called away and has to end the call before the survey is completed, try to agree another time to call them back. Once you can contact the head teacher again, complete the questionnaire from the point you were at. If you already submitted the partially-completed web survey, speak to the survey coordinator so they are aware of it. Make sure the School ID is clearly recorded on all partially completed surveys so they can be matched up.

6. Compensation for School Leaders

Each head teacher will be provided Birr 300 as compensation for the time they spent with us. The head teachers will be asked if they prefer the money in cash or equivalent mobile card. If they prefer in cash, the enumerator will ask them their bank accounts (Commercial Bank of Ethiopia) and transfer the payment through their bank account and receipt will be provided to PSI for settlement. If they prefer to receive mobile card equivalent to the money, the enumerators will buy mobile card and send to the head teachers through their mobile numbers.

7. Telephone enumerator conduct

Please read this section carefully and follow the guidance given.

7.1 Basic principles

- Ensure that all participants have been informed about the survey and understand why you are speaking to them
- Questions are to be asked exactly as they appear in the questionnaire.
- If using a paper copy of the questionnaire, make sure that you thoroughly check questionnaires before completing a call to avoid any incomplete sections.
- Never make up any answers or information.
- Keep a neutral attitude with respondents.
- Avoid any harm to the respondent.
- Treat everything the respondent tells you as confidential.
- Never make promises to the participants that you cannot keep.
- Avoid 'leading' the respondent to any particular answer. If a respondent is unclear on the meaning of a question, you should clarify the meaning of the question using the information from the manual. If you are unsure, seek assistance from the survey coordinator.

7.2 General Conduct

- Be polite towards everyone and treat all participants with respect. Your behaviour can have an enormous influence on people's opinions in the localities covered by the survey.
- Avoid disturbing or upsetting anyone by your behaviour.
- If you have arranged a time for a phone call with a participant, call at the stated time and never keep respondents waiting.
- Never attempt to sell anything to participants.
- Never lend or borrow money or goods from the participants.
- Never bribe a participant in order to get them to cooperate.

8. What if…?

We will address any questions you have during the training. If you are unsure of anything once the training has been completed, speak to the survey coordinator at PSI.

Appendix 1: Consent script

Please use this information to explain the Young Lives study and the Telephone Survey to all participants. Use a language which the participants understand, and make sure your explanation is simple and clear. Try to answer any questions which participants have.

Hello [again], my name is [x] and I'm calling from PSI. I'm calling about a follow up to the Young Lives research that your school took part in in 2017. Can I tell you more about the research? [Await confirmation].

We are conducting a new survey to understand how the COVID-19 situation is affecting schools in Ethiopia. Like the last survey, this is being run by PSI and the University of Oxford. It is being funded by Echidna Giving, a foundation interested in education.

We would like you to complete this survey on behalf of your school. If you choose to take part, it will involve completing a questionnaire with me over the telephone. It will take about 15 minutes, and I will ask you questions about how COVID-19 is affecting your school and how you are responding. As a thank you for your time, we will send you [ADD INCENTIVE] after the call.

If you give your permission, we will link your answers to this survey to information that we collected about your school in 2017. This is so that we can understand how different types of school are affected by COVID-19.

Researchers at PSI and the University of Oxford will use the answers that you and other schools give to write a report about how the COVID-19 situation is affecting schools and children in Ethiopia. The report won't include your name or the name of your school.

PSI and the University of Oxford are responsible for making sure that your information is looked after safely and only used for research. When they have finished carrying out this survey, they will remove any information that can be used to identify you or any other schools that take part. The anonymous answers for your school and others will then be available on the UK data archive – a website that researchers from around the world can access to conduct research.

If you give permission, the research will keep your contact details until the end of the Young Lives project (2018 Ethiopian calendar), so that they can get in touch if they want to invite your school take part in other research in the future. These details will be stored safely on secure computers and no one else will have access to them.

You don't have to agree to take part. You can ask me any questions you want before or throughout. You can also skip a question or stop at any stage without giving a reason.

You can ask for your answers to be deleted by contacting [partner organisation]. The phone number is: [coordinator number]. You can also use this number if you have any questions or complaints.

Do you have any questions you want to ask me? [DO NOT CONTINUE UNTIL QUESTIONS ADDRESSED]

Are you happy to take part? [IF YES, ARRANGE TIME TO CALL BACK OR OPEN CAPI PROGRAMME TO BEGIN SURVEY NOW. IF NO, THANK PARTICIPANT FOR TIME AND RECORD REFUSAL]

Disclaimer

Disclaimer: Responsibility for the views and opinions expressed in adaptations rests solely with the authors of the adaptations and are not necessarily endorsed by the respective copyright holder(s). The translations into YL country languages were not created by the copyright holder(s) and should not be considered an official translation. The copyright holder shall not be liable for any content or error in these translations and/or adaptions.

Copyright

© Young Lives 2021

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution – NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International Licence (CC BY-NC-SA 4.0).

Young Lives holds the copyright to all Young Lives publications and Young Lives website content but encourages the reader to quote and reproduce these materials for their own non-commercial purposes. Proper attribution is requested, stating the original source of the material. For online use, we ask readers to link to the original resource on the Young Lives website, www.younglives.org.uk.

Permission to make digital or hard copies of part, or all, of this work for teaching or not-for-profit use is hereby granted without fee and without a formal request, provided that copies are not made or distributed for profit or commercial advantage and that full attribution appears on the first page. As copyright holder, Young Lives requests a copy of any publication based on Young Lives material. Copying this work, in any other circumstances, including but not limited to any commercial use and/or re-use in commercial publications, is not permitted without prior written permission from Young Lives, for which a fee may be payable.

Please note that the reference section lists questions which Young Lives has used or adapted from external sources (e.g., researchers, organisations, institutions) who retain copyright over the original material and shall not be liable for any views and opinions expressed in Young Lives adaptations. To use these questions permission must be sought from the original source and not from Young Lives. Translations of these questions into Young Lives country languages were undertaken by Young Lives staff and should not be considered official translations. Any content or errors therein are solely Young Lives' responsibility.

Suggested citation: following, the following format (note the punctuation, () and ' and :

Young Lives (2021) 'Young Lives Head Teacher's Telephone Survey 2020', Oxford: Young Lives

Young Lives