Listening to Young Lives at Work: COVID-19 Phone Survey

FOURTH CALL

TALKING TO THE YOUNG LIVES RESPONDENTS: CONSENT PROCESS AND FURTHER ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

July 2022

Young Lives

Instructions for the enumerators: The "fourth call" refers to the fourth component of the telephone survey. The instrument of the fourth call includes (i) an initial dialogue,(ii) a questionnaire, (iii) a farewell dialogue, and (iv) comments section. Consent is requested in the initial dialogue.

As a continuation of the 2020 Phone Survey, which was done in three calls, the fourth 2021 Phone Survey with the YL respondents will follow up on the third call last year (October-December 2020) and explain the need to postpone Round 6 again, due to the pandemic. This call will briefly cover migration, marital status, household composition, and household access to vaccination. It will also include an invitation to participate in the follow survey, which will cover a much broader range of topics. This survey is planned to be 15-30 minutes long.

Note the following:

1. When possible, you will be asked to follow the same order of interviews in the fourth call, as you used in the third call. This is in order to allow for roughly the same amount of time between calls for each participant.
2. You must try to contact and invite those who were not interviewed in the previous calls, to participate in the fourth call. For Peru only, missing participants may be contacted through Facebook by the GRADE team using the “Niños del Milenio” Facebook account.
3. You must use the dialogue guidelines included in the questionnaire in the SurveyCTO software.
4. You must ask the questions that are part of the questionnaire.
5. At the same time, you should use your experience to make the conversation flow as naturally as possible. For example, if the young individual tells you something that answers one of the questions you were going to ask, do not ask the question anymore.
6. It is very important that the young individual feels like you have listened to them.

Regarding call content:

1. After the introduction, the enumerator will remind the participant of the last time they spoke (during a previous phone call or survey round), and that they are calling to invite them to participant in a phone survey. The enumerator will provide a brief overview of the objective of the YL telephone survey.
2. Before moving forward to ask for the respondent's consent to participate, the Enumerator must confirm they are talking to the right respondent. The Enumerator will then inform the respondent of the duration of the survey and reassure the respondent that all information they provide will be treated confidentially. Finally, the Enumerator will ask if he/she is willing to participate.
3. If the respondent consents, the Enumerator will record consent and proceed with the survey.
4. At the end of the fourth call the Enumerator will remind the respondent that he/she will try to contact them again between October and December 2021, to see if they wish to participate in the fifth phone survey.
5. The Enumerator should mention that in return for the present that was given in gratitude for his/her time in the visits of previous years, on this occasion, that we cannot visit him/her, at the end of the survey he/she will be given a small compensation equivalent to the price of the present.
6. If the respondent refuses to participate, the Enumerator will ask for the reason for the rejection and try to address it. If the respondent still refuses, the Enumerator will thank them for their time. See Questionnaire for more details on this aspect.*

How to respond to the young individual's concerns

During the conversation, the young individual may ask you questions about various aspects, such as how to collect the government economic support (bono universal), how to protect himself/herself from the coronavirus, how to look for work in these difficult circumstances, or how to access educational scholarships. Refer to the consultation guide to answer questions.

How to respond to requests for financial aid

If the index individual asks for financial aid, it is important to distinguish whether this is due to an immediate emergency or not. If it corresponds to an immediate emergency of an economic nature (health or hunger situation), take into account what is mentioned in the following section. Otherwise:

(Mention that "the project does not handle money". This is true, because the financial reward to be given corresponds to the cost of the gift that was to be given to them in this year's face-to-face visit (which was cancelled)

(Tell the individual about some of the resources in the consultation guide that might help.

[Peru and India only] It might be the case that due to the current crisis, the respondent, upon learning that there will be financial compensation later, asks for this compensation to be given now. In this case, the Enumerator should tell the respondent that they will need to ask him/her some questions to better understand the magnitude of his/her needs/problems and ask for authorization for the advance delivery of the reward and once the Enumerator has the answer he/she will call the respondent again.

The Enumerator must use the "Economic Compensation Information Sheet" to take note of the respondent's savings account or the person he or she designates (Full name of the account holder; DNI; Name of the bank; Account number; Interbank account number if the bank is not BCP). In the event that the respondent does not have a bank account, then the Bank order (Giro Bancario) option will be used to the bank that the respondent designates.

Facing an immediate emergency

Health Emergency:

It could be that at the time of calling the home, they are facing a health emergency, related to COVID-19 or otherwise. In this situation, the protocol should be:

i. Pay attention and take note of the details of the case.
ii. Provide the young individual with the information available in the consultation guide.
iii. Immediately inform the field coordinator to decide what the follow-up will be.

You may be tempted to help with specific recommendations; however, medical recommendations should be left to health experts.

Food emergency:

It could be that at the time of calling home, they are going hungry due to lack of work. In this situation, the protocol should be:

i. Pay attention and take note of the details of the case.
ii. Provide the young individual with the information available in the consultation guide.
iii. Immediately inform the field coordinator to decide what the follow-up will be.

Mental health and suicidal thoughts:

If a respondent feels desperate and suicidal, you should:

iv. Pay attention, listen and keep a quiet conversation. Take note of the details of the case.
v. Provide the young individual, carefully, with the information available in the consultation guide.
vi. Immediately inform the field coordinator to decide what the follow-up will look like.

However, if you feel that you are currently dealing with a real emergency, act as quickly as possible and ask to speak with another family member so that you can tell him/her to seek immediate support. If the respondent sounds suicidal, confidentiality becomes secondary (avoiding harm is more important).

Possible ethical cases

If the Enumerator notices something that causes him/her concern regarding the index individual/family (e.g. related to mental health, poor physical health, hunger, domestic violence) they should record it in the Comments section.

Possible ethical cases should be reported as soon as possible to the Field Coordinator and discussed in weekly feedback sessions. In turn, the Principal investigator will report these cases to the team at Oxford. It is very important that these cases are reported.

From the fourth phone call questionnaire:

Start the dialogue with the YL Individual with the following:

Dialogue 1:

Hello. Good (morning/afternoon/night) (are you) / is this [YL Child´s name]? Hi, I am [first and last name of ENUMERATOR]/[VN: ENUMERATORS full name], of the Young Lives Study. The last time I/we talked to you over the phone was back in 2020, how are you?

On that occasion we told you that we were going to contact you again this year to know about you and your family; and if the situation had improved, we were hoping to visit you, as we had originally planned to do last year. However, we are still experiencing a risky situation and, to our regret, we are once again unable to visit you due to the Health Emergency/Corona virus/COVID-19.

EXPLAIN: As you may understand, you and every YL participant are adults now. Some are still living with their parents and siblings, but others are living on their own or have moved for a different reason. The main purpose of this call is to ask you some questions about your current household composition and update this information. We won't take longer than 15 minutes in this call. As always, all the information that you share with me is strictly confidential (as it has been in the past)

Q.I1 SAY: [YL Child´s name], do you agree? Will you give me your consent to ask you these questions and update your data/the information we have about you?

This question aims to obtain verbal consent from the YL Individual to continue with the call 4 survey. If s/he says:
Yes=1 - skip to section 2, Survey

No=00 - continue to Q.I2
YL Child had died=02 – please proceed with the condolence message suggested below

CONDOLENCE MESSAGE
SAY: We are very sad to hear the news the [YL Child's name] has passed. We are very sorry for your loss. We are very thankful that he/she was part of the YL study for more than 20 years. It was a pleasure getting to know him/her and his/her family during this time.

Q.I2 SAY: Why don't you want to participate?

This question aims to understand the reasons as to why the YL Individual does not want to give his/her consent. This is particularly important to understand whether the reason why he/she does not want to participate can be addressed.

There are four possible responses. Do not prompt the YL Individual. Enter the response closest to the YL Individual's answer.

- (01) If s/he says s/he does not have the time to do the survey because of current commitments such as studying or having to go to work – continue to Q.I3
- (02) If he/she has doubts and/or don´t trust s/he will provide good responses – skip to Q.I4
- (03) If s/he refuses to participate because of a very delicate situation linked to a health, economic or other type of emergency - Go to Farewell F3
- (04) If s/he refuses to participate because he/she is no longer interested in participating in the study, skip to Farewell 4. Please note that this option should be used as a last resort. However, this might mean that they do not want to be a part of call 4 only, or want to withdraw from the phone survey (call 4 and call 5) or from the study altogether. Please take note of the reason for withdrawal and follow the next steps, where we will ask them some questions to clarify what they are withdrawing from.

Q.I3: Explain that you can call again on a day and time that is more convenient for he/she... and also, mention again that it will be a conversation of no more than 15 minutes...

SAY: Would you like to participate? Do you give us your consent to go ahead on the date and time that is more convenient for you?
This question is to re-clarify with the YL Individual whether there is a more convenient time to call him/her instead if s/he is currently busy. Please note the protocol when you call them back at the agreed time and date. Mark Yes or No based on their response.

- If s/he says Yes=01 - go to Farewell F2 to schedule a time for the next call. When you call the YL Individual again at the scheduled time and date, start with Q.I2 again to check for their consent before proceeding with the survey.
- If s/he says No=00 - take note of the reason and go to Farewell F1.

Q.I4: Explain again the purpose of the conversation and the confidentiality of the information they share with YL. Explain that the information and data collected will only be accessed by researchers and people in charge of the study, and that they will not be able to directly identify each participant, as the data are strictly anonymized. Additionally, explain that this data is relevant to be able to communicate with them again, visit them when there is no risk to do so, send them information etc.

SAY: What do you think? Would you like to participate?
Mark Yes or No based on their response

- If s/he says Yes=01 - Go to Section 2, Survey
- If s/he says No=00 - move on to Farewell F1

Farwell F1: The participant doesn't give consent

This farewell is used in the case that the YL respondent doesn't give consent to continue with the survey in Q.I2 or Q.!3. We will inform him/her that we will conduct a new phone survey during the months of October-December and, in case they wish to participate then, they will receive a small contribution to thank them for their time.

SAY: [YL Child´s name] don´t worry, your decision is absolutely free and voluntary, we understand it and respect it. It is necessary that you know that choosing not to participate in this survey doesn´t affect at all your link with Young Lives.
